

S-AFF, INC announces that there is no 2009 IHEA training seminar

IHEA has announced that this year they will not be hosting an IHEA Combustion Safety Seminar as they have in the past. It was felt that due to economic conditions that postponing till 2010 was in the best interest of all. They do intend on hosting this seminar in the future and that this is a 1 year hiatus only.

In the mean time if you are interested in providing in house training, S-AFF, INC. ready to provide you with onsite training and can provide a diverse group of instructors to meet your needs.
